Configure billing

What billing settings are for

Billing settings are where you review the subscription plan, remaining generations, monthly usage, and available subscription actions. Use this page when you need to manage the subscription or begin an upgrade from System Settings.

If you need to...	Go to
Open the billing page	Open billing settings
Review plan and usage information	Read the billing summary and plans
Open subscription management or begin an upgrade	Manage or upgrade the subscription
Understand a checkout return	Handle checkout return states
Resolve a billing error	When billing actions fail
Review the System Settings area	System Settings overview

Before you start

You must be signed in before billing information can load. The page uses the current signed-in session to request the billing summary. The billing summary is the plan, generation, and usage information shown on Billing.

The Manage subscription action appears when the billing summary includes a billing account. Upgrade actions start a checkout request and take you away from the Billing page.

After signing in, continue to Open billing settings.

Open billing settings

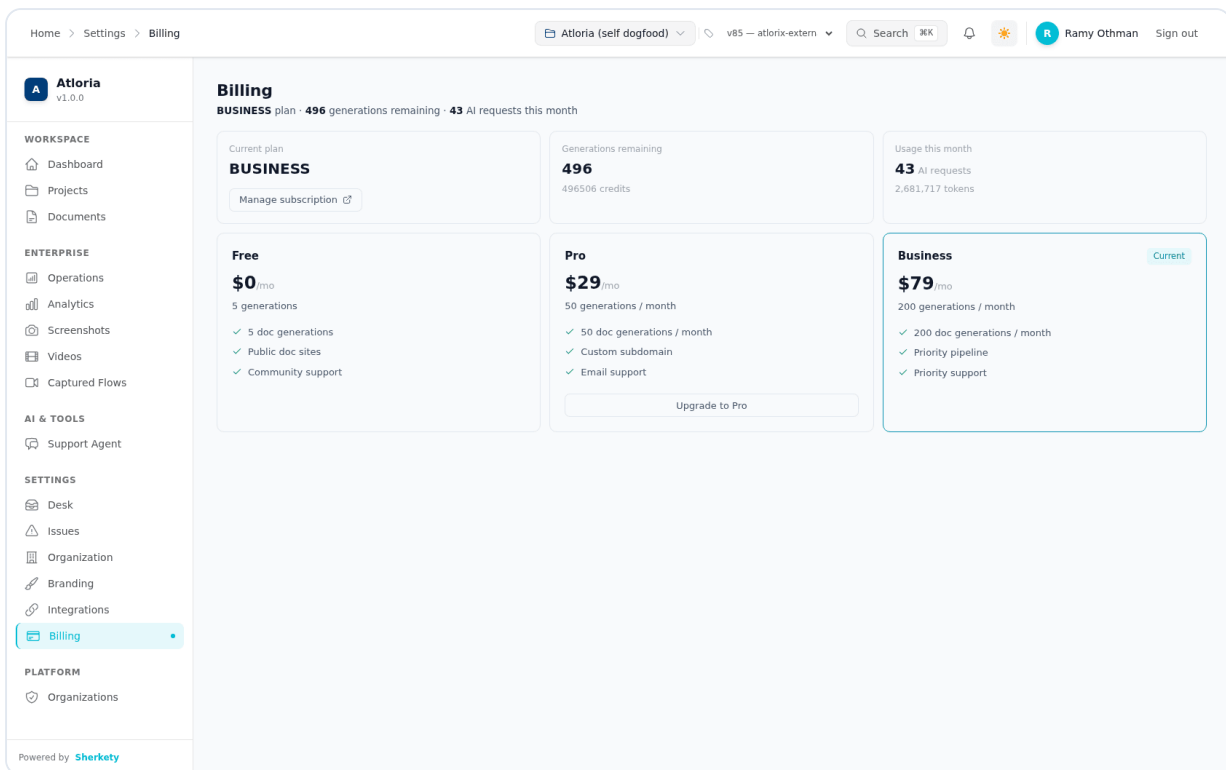

Use this procedure to reach the Billing page.

Prerequisites

- Sign in to Atloria.

Steps

1. Open System Settings.
2. Select Billing.
3. Confirm that the Billing page appears.

Result: The Billing page is open for reviewing the billing summary and plans.

Read the billing summary and plans

Review the current plan, remaining generations, and this month's AI requests before choosing a subscription action. The plan cards show the available subscription choices and the features associated with each choice.

Area	What you can read
Current plan	The plan currently associated with the account.
Generations remaining	The number of remaining generations and the credit balance.

Area	What you can read
Usage this month	The number of AI requests and the token total for the month.
Free	$0 and 5 generations , with public documentation sites and community support.
Pro	$29 per month and 50 generations / month , with a custom subdomain and email support.
Business	$79 per month and 200 generations / month , with priority pipeline and priority support.

The page presents these summaries and plan cards as information to review before choosing a subscription action. It has no editable billing fields, tabs, or grids.

When you are ready to change the subscription, continue to Manage or upgrade the subscription.

Manage or upgrade the subscription

Use this procedure when you need to open subscription management or begin a plan upgrade.

Prerequisites

- Sign in to Atloria.
- For subscription management, have a billing account available to the page.
- For an upgrade, have an upgrade action available for the plan you want.

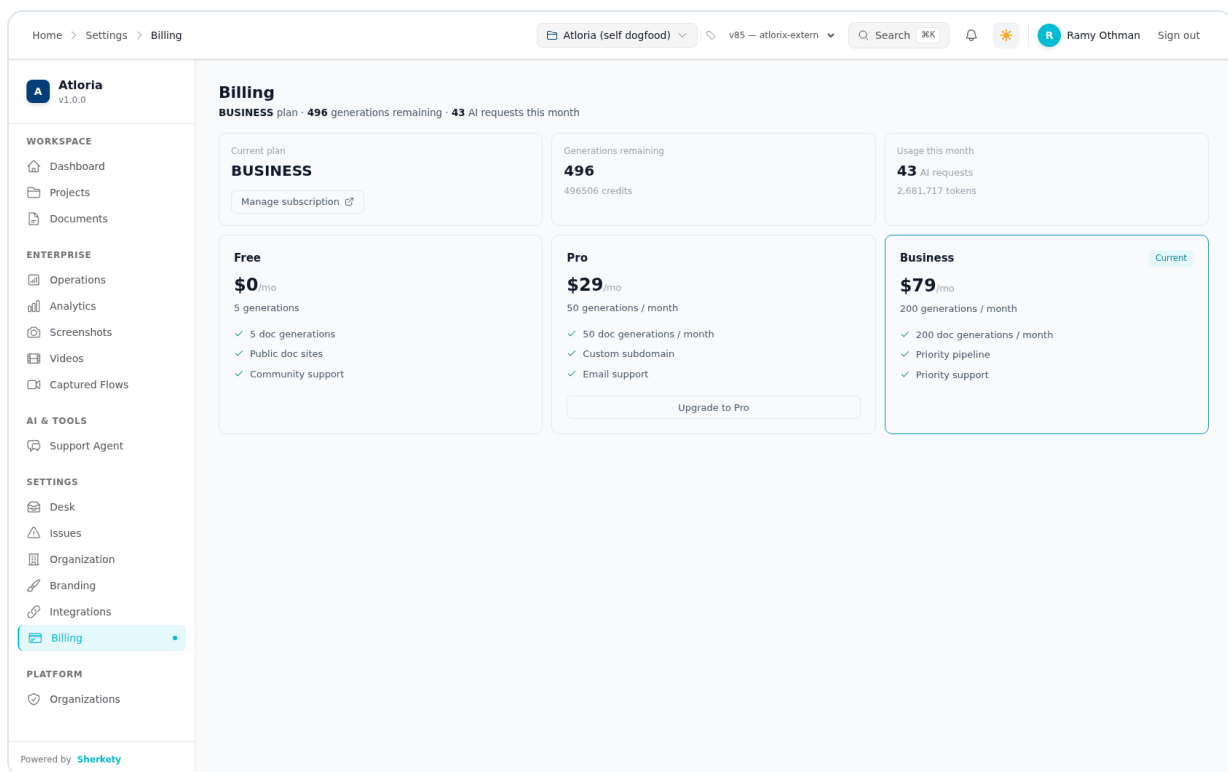

Steps

1. Choose one action:

If you need to...	Select
Open subscription management	Manage subscription
Upgrade to the Pro plan	Upgrade to Pro
Upgrade to the Business plan	Upgrade to Business

2. Confirm that the billing portal or checkout page opens.

Upgrade actions are disabled while a checkout request is in progress.

Result: Subscription management opens in the billing portal, or the selected upgrade opens checkout.

If checkout returns a status message, continue to Handle checkout return states.

Handle checkout return states

Checkout returns can show a processing, completed, or cancelled state. The page also starts checkout automatically when it receives an eligible `autostart` value and a signed-in session is ready.

What happens	What appears
Checkout returns with success	Payment received – activating your plan... This usually takes a few seconds. appears while the page checks for the updated plan.
The updated plan is returned	Your <code>{currentPlan}</code> plan is active and your credits have been added. Welcome aboard! appears.
Checkout returns with cancellation	Checkout was cancelled – no charge was made. Pick a plan whenever you’re ready. appears.
The activation check reaches 20 attempts	The page stops polling and leaves the processing state with a manual refresh hint.

If a billing action fails, continue to When billing actions fail.

When billing actions fail

Use the message on screen to identify whether the failure happened while the summary was loading, checkout was starting, or the billing portal was opening.

What you see	What it means	What to do
Failed to load billing summary	The billing summary request failed.	Reload the Billing page.
Checkout failed	Checkout did not return a usable checkout address.	Return to the plan cards and try the upgrade again.
Could not open billing portal	The billing portal request did not return a usable portal address.	Return to the Billing page and select Manage subscription again.
A specific error message	The action returned more detail about the failure.	Follow the instruction in that message.

After resolving the failure, return to the relevant billing action and continue with What happens next.

What happens next

After you select Manage subscription, subscription management continues in the billing portal. After you select an upgrade action, checkout continues outside the Billing page and can return to the page with a checkout result.

When a successful checkout has activated the plan, the page displays the activation message and adds the credits. If activation is still processing, the page continues checking for the updated plan before it stops polling.
